

Severn flood defences undergoing thorough checks

Environment Agency is checking hundreds of flood assets to make sure they are fully operational and ready to protect against flood risk.