

Share your views on making a treatment for overactive bladder available for women without need for prescription

The Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency is calling for women who experience symptoms associated with overactive bladder such as the urgent need to urinate to make their views heard as part of a consultation l...