

SIA gathers leaders of top security businesses for action on labour exploitation

The SIA invited senior representatives from the private security industry to discuss ways that they and the regulator could combat labour exploitation together.