

Six million vital checks carried out at local diagnostic centres

NHS patients benefit from six million more checks at centres across England.