

Social media companies launch features to encourage people to get their booster

Facebook, Instagram and TikTok boost support for vaccine programme