South East flood protection receives record government investment

Homes and businesses in the South East will be better protected from flooding and coastal erosion under plans published today by the Government and Environment Agency.