

South West to benefit from £6.5 billion transport investment

Multibillion-pound plan to improve connectivity across the country includes reopening rail services to Wellington and Cullompton.