

Southport attack: next steps

The Home Secretary Yvette Cooper has given an update on the actions the government will take including the creation of an independent public inquiry.