

SRUC community swings into action over coronavirus

Former students from Scotland's Rural College have been joining staff to take action against the impact of coronavirus.