

SRUC helps cocaine fight in Colombia

Researchers from Scotland's Rural College (SRUC) have been awarded more than £122,000 for a project that will help the Colombian government in its war against cocaine farming.