

SRUC joins global network

Scotland's Rural College (SRUC) has joined a network of universities across the world committed to sustainable, global development.