

Students stranded by quake resettled

[unable to retrieve full-text content] Starting a new term can be a tough time for any student—especially when it's at an entirely new school 40 kilometers away because the last one was destroyed in an earthquake.