

Support service for Northern Ireland traders extended for a year

The Trader Support Service, which helps businesses move goods between Great Britain and Northern Ireland, has been extended.