

Support strengthened for children with SEND

Families who have children with SEND will soon receive further support with short breaks, supported internship opportunities and recognition of Down syndrome