

£3.5-million investment for smarter missile systems

The Defence Science Technology Laboratory (Dstl) has been awarded £3.5 million to develop innovative new missile systems.

Dstl celebrates 20 remarkable years

The Defence Science and Technology Laboratory (Dstl) celebrates its 20th anniversary on 2 July 2021 as the science inside UK defence and security.

New Red Teaming Handbook published

A practical guide to using red teaming techniques that can be applied by individuals or teams to the problems they face.

MOD delivers robust legal protections for personnel and veterans

The commencement of the Overseas Operations Act begins today.

First steel cut for HMS Belfast

The first steel has been cut for HMS Belfast, the third ship in the Royal Navy's fleet of next generation Type 26 anti-submarine frigates.