

New explosive door-breaching technology brought to market

The design for a safer and more effective way to breach doors is based on research by Dstl and has been licensed to a specialist UK company.

---

Supercharging science: an open letter from Dstl chief executive

Science lab urges best minds in industry, academia, engineering, science, and technology to work with UK specialists to combat future threats.

---

Ben Wallace is first ever UK Defence Secretary to visit Serbia

Mr Wallace's visit marks a development in the UK-Serbia defence relationship as the two countries agreed to expand defence engagement.

---

Lt Gen Richard Nugee opens Nesscliff NetCAP buildings

Brand new net-zero carbon smart buildings have been officially opened at Nesscliff Training Camp.

---

Finding next-gen space tech: DASA launches the Space to Innovate Campaign

Over the next year, DASA will release a series of challenge “drops” to find and fund solutions to major space hurdles, with up to £2m in funding available