

British airman laid to rest 78 years after fatal flight

Australian family of a London-born British World War 2 pilot paid tribute at his military burial, held this week in the Netherlands, 78 years after he was killed in action.

WW2 airman buried in the Netherlands

A Liverpool-born RAF airman who died when his fighter was shot down over the Netherlands has been buried there, 82 years after his final flight.

WW2 burial in the Netherlands

World War 2 air crew laid to rest with military honours.

New £50 million cyber academy to benefit influential UK-US relationship

A new £50 million UK centre will support the training of world-class cyber experts, both domestically and internationally, Defence Secretary Ben Wallace has announced.

Top US Space Force scientist visits

Dstl

Dr Joel Mozer and his team met Defence Science and Technology Laboratory staff and toured the HERMES satellite ground control station at Portsmouth West.