

Defence 'Builds Back Better' with bold new Defence and Security Industrial Strategy

Defence will accelerate the innovation and development of next-generation technology with an ambitious Defence and Security Industrial Strategy (DSIS) – published today – coupled with a £6.6 billion investment in research an...

£3.6 million for tech ensuring offshore windfarms can coexist with UK Air Defence

DASA has announced Phase 2 of the competition Windfarm Mitigation for UK Air Defence, offering up to £3.6 million for technologies that mitigate radar risk of offshore windfarms

Armed Forces to be more active around the world to combat threats of the future

The UK will continue to adopt a forward presence around the world, ensuring the men and women of our Armed Forces are globally engaged, constantly campaigning and in lockstep with our Allies

Defence Secretary oral statement on

the Defence Command Paper

Defence Secretary Ben Wallace describes Defence's contribution to the Integrated Review of Security, Defence, Development and Foreign Policy.

Defence outlines 2030 vision for the armed forces

The Defence Secretary has set out the future vision for the UK Armed Forces ensuring the military is prepared for new and emerging threats and challenges.