

HMS Queen Elizabeth visits Western Scotland for the first time

The Royal Navy's Fleet Flagship, HMS Queen Elizabeth, has arrived in Glen Mallan, Scotland, as part of final preparations before her first operational deployment.

The Royal Navy leads an international task group of warships on a security patrol of the Baltic

Royal Navy frigates led vessels from all three Baltic states in the first operation of the UK-led Joint Expeditionary Force.

International Women's Day 2021: Choose to Challenge

Ministry of Defence police officers share their stories and perspectives.

Mental health toolkit rolled out across entire Royal Navy fleet

Every member of the Royal Navy can now boost their mental health and fitness with access to an offline version of the mental health platform HeadFIT.

Chief of the Defence Staff, General Sir Nick Carter extended in post

The Prime Minister has asked Chief of the Defence Staff, General Sir Nick Carter, to continue in his role until the end of November.