

How 'natural enemies' can be farmers' friends

With evidence mounting that insect populations are declining, farmers are being encouraged to act now to save these vitally important species.

SRUC names new chair of commercial board

A Scottish entrepreneur whose achievements include bringing the world's first organic salmon to market has been named the new chair of the SAC Commercial Board.

TV icebreaker for SRUC student

A Wildlife and Conservation Management student from Scotland's Rural College (SRUC) has been hitting the headlines – in Iceland.

Covid-19 prompts return to study

The Covid-19 lockdown has led many people to reconsider their lifestyles and prompted a return to study at Scotland's Rural College (SRUC).

SRUC tops UK list for SME consulting income

Scotland's Rural College (SRUC) provides more business value to SMEs than any other higher education institution in the UK.