

Degrees of change

Researchers at SRUC form part of a new Independent Climate Change Inquiry to explore how a low-carbon landscape can support a bright future for farming and food.

Crop event set to yield positive results

Wheat and barley growers affected by the ban of a widely used fungicide will be able to seek expert advice at a free trials event.

New potato partnership

The seeds have been sown for the creation of a world-leading potato hub in Scotland, designed to give those working in the £200 million-plus industry instant access to expert advice.

The Revolution is Rural

Scotland's Rural College is showing that it doesn't "follow the herd" with a new set of films designed to "dispel myths, challenge stereotypes and broaden horizons".

New face tops Student Association

A new face on the student politics scene and a long-serving representative are among the seven officers elected to Scotland's Rural College's Student Association (SRUCSA).