

Teachers to get up to £6000 extra to teach vital subjects

The incentive is backed by £200 million investment to support schools and colleges attract and retain the excellent teachers they need in vital subjects.