

Teamwork will help more Somerset and Dorset bathing waters

Four in five beaches meet minimum standard for bathing water in part of the South West – but group effort is needed to root out all sources of deterioration.