

Tech Secretary welcomes foreign investment in UK data centres which will spur economic growth and AI innovation in Britain

Four major tech firms based in the US have committed to the UK as the place to invest in data centres, fueling Britain's economic growth and spurring on AI development.