

The fourth International Conference on Small Island Developing States is a critical moment: UK statement at the UN

Statement by Ambassador James Kariuki at the first session of the Preparatory Committee of the Fourth International Conference on Small Island Developing States.