

The Government Office for Technology Transfer talks to the Geospatial Commission

In this film the Geospatial Commission explains how they used funding and advice from GOTT to explore new uses for their National Underground Asset Register.