

The Kremlin could never have envisaged how war in Ukraine is developing: UK statement to the OSCE

UK military advisor, Nicholas Aucott, says the military situation is markedly different to what many expected two and a half years ago and this is a testament to the bravery and fortitude of the Ukrainian people.