

The United Kingdom will continue to offer honest and reliable development support around the world: UK statement at the UN Security Council

Statement by Ambassador James Kariuki at the UN Security Council meeting on peace through common development.