

Theresa May must stand up for our country's values when she meets Donald Trump – Jeremy Corbyn

Jeremy

Corbyn MP, Leader of the Labour Party,

commenting on the Prime Minister's meeting with President Trump, said:

"Theresa

May must stand up for our country's values when she meets Donald Trump and oppose his support for torture, which is inhumane, illegal and delivers false intelligence. There can be no indulgence of the US President's renewed threat to ban Muslims or build a wall on the Mexico border.

"The

Prime Minister must assure the British people that any trade deal with the United States won't open up the National Health Service to privatisation and control by US companies. We won't let Theresa May turn Britain into a bargain basement tax haven off the coast of Europe to be ripped off by the world's biggest corporations.

"And

for the future of the planet, Theresa May needs to remind President Trump that climate change is real and not a hoax invented by the Chinese."
