

Theresa May seems determined to turn a blind eye to inconvenient facts – Abbott

Diane

Abbott MP, Labour's Shadow Home Affairs Secretary, commenting on reports in the Independent that Theresa May blocked attempts to highlight the impact migration can have on the economy and public services during the EU referendum, said:

"This

raises serious questions about the Prime Minister's priorities.

"Exiting

the EU will mean reforming our entire immigration system. But doing so should not be at the cost of jobs and the economy.

"Unfortunately,

Theresa May seems determined to turn a blind eye to inconvenient facts.

"This report should be published in full."
