

Thousands more people benefit from free legal support

More than 33,000 people have been helped to tackle family, debt and housing issues thanks to over £3 million of government investment in legal support.