

Thousands more to train in future tech like AI as government unveils over £1.1 billion package to skill-up UK

Science Secretary Michelle Donelan outlined plans to upskill millions across the UK in AI, quantum and beyond in a speech at the Maths Summit in London.