Two World War One Soldiers Buried in France

Two soldiers, whose remains were found in a cave, have been laid to rest with full military honours more than a century after their deaths.