

UK alumni seek solutions to Motagua River problem

Chevening alumni from Guatemala and Honduras are developing a project to address the pollution of Motagua River, working with authorities and decision makers.