

UK and France able to deploy a 10,000 strong joint military force in response to shared threats

This major milestone comes as the two countries commemorate the 10th anniversary of the Lancaster House defence and security, and nuclear treaties.