

UK and France to deepen research and AI links following Horizon association

New funding to boost research collaboration and a new partnership to further global AI safety are part of measures announced by the UK and France.