

UK and Qatar announce funding initiative to support least developed countries and humanitarian crises worldwide

The Minister for Development is in Qatar to launch a $50million co-funding initiative to help tackle the most pressing humanitarian and development crises