

UK and Solomon Islands Environment Ministry support waste management education initiatives

The UK government's Ocean Country Partnership Programme and the Solomon Islands government through its Ministry of Environment provide education packs to schools.