

UK donates security equipment to Ecuador on new Minister's first visit

The UK will donate essential security equipment for Ecuador's fight against organised crime as part of the new British Minister for Latin America's first official overseas visit.