

UK expands eVisas to new biometric customers

The UK immigration system is going digital, meaning physical documents will be replaced with an online immigration status