

UK government unlocks international deal for Scottish potato industry

International Trade Secretary announces major potato export deal during the National Farmers' Union conference.