

UK space sector wins over £2 million to help develop options for a national position, navigation and timing space system

6 UK businesses have won a share of over £2 million in government funding to help shape options for the UK's satellite navigation and timing capability, to protect UK Critical National Infrastructure.