

UK supports moratorium on deep sea mining to protect ocean and marine ecosystems

UK announces support for moratorium on granting of exploitation licences for deep sea mining by the International Seabed Authority.