

UK to hold joint military exercises with US and Japan to boost security and strengthen defence ties

The trilateral exercises will build on previous operations between the three countries – underlining the UK's commitment to the Indo-Pacific.