

UK to receive earlier flood and drought warnings using high-tech sensors and real time monitoring

Researchers across the UK to use latest tech and major data bank to provide better flood and drought warnings.