

UK unites with global partners to accelerate development using AI

UK unites with global partners to accelerate development in world's poorest countries using AI