

UK updates Travel Advice to some western regions of Ukraine

The UK government has updated its travel advice to Ukraine following a change in the risk assessment on the ground in four western regions of the country.