

UK will support Guatemala to increase its climate ambitions

The British Ambassador and Minister of Environment discussed opportunities to deepen the longstanding climate partnership between the UK and Guatemala.