

Luciana Berger joins the Liberal Democrats

I am very pleased to announce that I have joined @joswinson and the @LibDems, the strongest party to stop brexit, fight for equality and a fairer country.

– Luciana Berger (@lucianaberger) September 5, 2019

This is a moment of national crisis.

Go to Source

Author:

Read Jane Dodds' maiden speech to Parliament now

Thank you, Mr Speaker.

May I start by paying tribute to my predecessor, Mr. Chris Davies.

He worked hard for our local communities, raising awareness on the difficult issue of mental health and suicide in our farmers.

I thank him for his service.

Go to Source

Author:

What's going on in Parliament

Last night we defeated the Government on Brexit for the 23rd time in the Commons.

Go to Source

Author:

Stopping the Shutdown

Parliament returns from recess tomorrow, and the next three days are crucial.

We know that Boris Johnson will attempt to shut down Parliament by any means he can.

It seems Boris Johnson will stop at nothing to implement his anti-democratic shutdown of parliament and force a disastrous No Deal on the British people. Today, the @LibDems continue to work with other parties on emergency legislation to stop this authoritarian power grab. <https://t.co/V0uZSaN9sa>

– Jo Swinson (@joswinson) September 2, 2019

Go to Source

Author:

Read Laura's speech at the Sheffield Stop the Coup rally

These are dark and frightening times for anyone who believes in democracy and internationalism.

An unelected Prime Minister is suspending democracy to ram through a catastrophic crash-out Brexit

We have a Prime Minister who was elected by less than 100,000 extreme members of the Conservative party, who's faced one day of scrutiny in his time as Prime Minister and who lays claim to be Prime Minister on the basis of a parliamentary majority which may no longer exist.

And that unelected Prime Minister is now suspending democracy to ram through a catastrophic crash-out Brexit that nobody voted for. A Brexit that will leave us all poorer, that will take away our right to live and to work and to love in 27 countries, that will put our friends and colleagues who rely on essential medicines at risk and that is making 3 million EU citizens who have made their home in this country unwelcome in their own homes. I want to say that you are not unwelcome. We value your contribution and we are so grateful that you are here.

Go to Source

Author: