

No extra police funding despite crime on the rise and police numbers falling

Today's budget statement by the Chancellor included no additional funding for the police in England and Wales.

Go to Source

Author:

Chancellor cheats start-ups on £2.3bn research fund

The Chancellor's announcement of £2.3bn extra for research and development is a con.

Go to Source

Author:

Extra funding in Budget less than half what NHS needs

Philip Hammond has announced just £1.6bn of NHS funding for 2018-19, less than half the £4bn that NHS England Chief Executive Simon Stevens and leading think tanks have said is needed.

Go to Source

Author:

Hammond is conning the public on housing

Far from the £15 billion promised by the Chancellor, the real figure for housing is closer to a much reduced £6 billion over the next 5 years.

Go to Source

Author:

Hammond makes teachers and police £3,000 worse off

Liberal Democrat research based on OBR figures shows that:

Go to Source

Author: